Ominous Roll Of War Drums Resounds Through Far-East

SHARP CLASHES AMONG TROOPS CAUSE ALARM

Russia and China in Preparation for Major
Troop Move
CASUALTIES MANY
ALONG BORDERLINE
Horsemen Raid Village
Causing Great Panic;
Situation Tense

Salem, Aug. 17.—The ominous roll of war drums in the far east has been heard today.
The news from the outside world is of early peaceful settlement of the Sino-Russian controversy. The control of the Chinanai railway, advises recently from China indicated that the two governments are imminent.

The National government is reported to have instructed its representatives to notify the nations which are signatories to the Kellog pact that Russian troops have crossed Manchuria.

Preparations to fore-ward a Soviet offensive are being made by the National government.
Soviet troops have been ordered to reinforce these already stationed at the Siberian-Manchurian frontier.

Clashes are reported
between outlying detachments of main bodies of the opposing armies on the frontier are frequently reported.

The officials of the Soviet government have reported determined that the demands regarding the Chinanai railway be met with promptness.

Soviet officials are reported to have determined to prevent any advance by Soviet troops, although they are in peace.

The Aug. 17.—Sharp clashes between Chinese and Russian troops were reported in advance received today.

Reports of these which occurred 16 miles south of Suifu on the main sector of the Siberian-Manchurian frontier, 4 Chinese and 12
Russians were killed.

Some 60 miles north of Jiamusi, a detachment of Russian cavalry surrounded a group of Chinese troops, killing 2 and wounding six Chinese cavaliers of the vicinity.

Incidents of the vicinity were thrown into panic and ten of them were wounded by enemy bullets.

Horsemen Led Village
A group of horsemen appeared near Hailu in western Manchuria, killing a small village and burning several Chinese. Whether the raiders were ordinary Manchurian guerrillas or Russian horsemen was not determined.

Chinese casualties were reported in an engagement at Da-sheng on the Chinese Eastern railway, when 700 Soviet troops were driven from the town after occupying it for an hour.

A clash between cavalry at the border was also reported. Four Chinese and 12 Chinese were reported killed in this action.

Soviet are reported to have concentrated 300 motor troops at Samskaya, northeast of Kirin,
following the occupation of numerous districts.

The gravest apprehension is felt at Nanking relative to the movement of the Soviet. It is believed there that the Soviets are planning to occupy the entire Chinese Eastern railway, launching attacks simultaneously from Manchuria and east from Pechangchaya and Harbinovsk with Harbin as an objective.

Chinese authorities are reported to be making defensive counter moves.

Judge Places Cross In Memory of Wife

Lisbon, Aug. 17.—An electric lighted cross has been placed on the steps of the Lisbon Methodist Episcopal church by Appellate Judge T. F. Farr in memory of his late wife, Pearl Farr who died recently. It had been the plan of Mrs.
Farr to have such a cross placed on the church before her death. The cross is seven feet high with the top section measuring five feet.
The cross is made of electric bulbs.
The cross will be illuminated for a number of hours every night.

Growing Plump

FAY LANPHIER, "Miss America 1929" beauty queen of 1929, recently returned to her home at Oakland, Cal., from a trip abroad.
Miss Lanphier who won the nationwide beauty contest four years ago and was awarded the crown for her grace and figure, has grown somewhat plump, but she is proud of it.
"I'd rather be plump and healthy than thin and neuritic," she said.

RUN RUNNER PAYS PENALTY FOR MURDERS

Hanging Ends Battle
For Life; Was Well Known

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Aug. 17.—
While the first streak of dawn spread over the United States coast guard base here, James H. Alderman, 50, "run pirate" was taken from his cell to a scaffold erected in a metal airplane hangar and hanged for the murder of two coast guardsmen.

The execution was sprung at 6:04 a. m., and 15 minutes later his body was removed from the death chamber,
and will be delivered to relatives at Miami for burial.

The execution was shrouded with secrecy, everyone being barred from the station grounds except the official witnesses.

Alderman, one of the most notorious run pirates ever to ply between the Bahamas and Florida, was sentenced to die for the murder of Sidney Sanderlin and Victor Lamb,
two coast guardsmen, during a sunset battle on the high seas in August 1927. Robert K. Webster, a secret service operative, was slain by the gunfire, but Alderman was never tried for his death.

The execution today wrote final to one of Florida's loneliest and most bitterly fought legal battles. Alder-man's counsel having appealed his case to the highest court in the land, and to President Hoover in vain.

an attempt to refuel.

The plane, piloted by Nick Namer and Art Walker, where another refueling will be attempted before the endurance flyers start for Omaha, Cleveland and New York city.

Several refueling attempts at

God.

The Sun God was expected

Death Ends Career Of Former U. S. Senator

Cleveland, Aug. 17.—Former United States Senator Cyrus Locher, 51, died at St. Luke's hospital here today following a complete re-lapse late Friday from the effects of an operation for gall stones two weeks ago.

A third blood transfusion operation was performed early this morning, but the former senator failed to rally.

Mrs. Locher, his wife, was at his bedside when the end came.

Although his condition was considered serious, hope had been held for his recovery until late last night when the ex-senator suffered a relapse accompanied by a complete collapse.

Senator Locher, who was born on a farm in Putnam county on March 8, 1878, the son of Christian and Fanny Locher, came to Cleveland
as a student at Western Reserve university. He remained here after graduation to take up a long and active political career.

In 1908 he was appointed assistant law director under former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker. After two years at this post he resigned to take up private law practice and to become an instructor in the Western Reserve law school.

Locher was elected county prosecutor in 1912. He held that office for two terms after which he became president of the John Marshall law school here.

Gov. A. V. Donahey appointed Locher state director of commerce in 1923. Later he quit that position to become United States senator, being appointed by the governor to fill the unexpired term of Senator Frank B. Willis, who died at Delaware, O., during a political meeting.

er meeting conducted by the C. E.
executive board. The conference

WOMEN READY FOR AIR RACE

Salem, Aug. 17.—The world's most skilled feminine flyers put finishing touches on their air speedsters and their hot weather costumes today, 24 hours before the hop-off to the National Women's Air Derby for Cleveland, Ohio.

Marvel Crosson, San Diego, Cal., kept her place as first to start.
Behind the airplane, reputedly the fastest winged creature, at one minute intervals the other 19 women will zoom the field, dash across the narrow coastal plain and skirt
the higher peaks of the coast range.
As their sleek-like planes disappear
against the mountain background, the flyers will be lost to sight by what is expected to be the biggest aviation crowd ever gathered here.

Stores Robbed In Village of Rogers

Three stores in the village of Rogers were robbed of merchandise
last night.

The Finch and Huston general store was robbed of smoked meats,

merchandise valued at approximately $10. The Roy Shively store was entered and cigarettes and tobacco taken while the Walter Haley hardware store reported theft of several boxes of shotgun shells.

Sheriff W. J. Barlow investigated the robbery and stated all had been committed by the same party, who visited the village in a machine in which they made their get-away.

G. Burton, president of the Salem Manufacturers' association.

The letter invited the manufacturers' organization to at-

Four Allegedly Illegal Aviation Operators

New York, Aug. 17.—Four sensational raids by federal postal inspectors on nationally-known aviation concerns marked removal of the widespread war by the government on securities selling in New York, late Friday.

Two inspectors, working with department of justice operatives, under Inspector Graham, made a foray from the offices of George J.
Mintzer, assistant United States attorney, and in an hour had served grand jury summonses on officers
of the following concerns:

Airva Corporation of No. 30
Broad st., operating plane service
to Boston and elsewhere.
Coastal Airways, Inc., of 45 West 40th st.

Hadley & Co., of 1 Broadway,
"specialists in aviation securities,"
Hawland Holding Company of 22
Washington st., print shop.

Coincident with the raids Mint-

New York investors had paid $420-000 in the last month for Airva stocks based on representations which he called wholly improper.

BOAT COLLISION TAKES 3 LIVES

Speed Craft Rams Big Pleasure Boat; Both
Sink Soon

Alexandria Bay, N. Y., Aug. 17.— Searching parties were sent out here today in an effort to find the bodies of W. Charles Lipe, wealthy Syracuse manufacturer, his wife and Captain Ford Dodge, who are believed to have lost their lives late last night when Lipe's boat crashed into a sight-seeing boat.

Both crafts sank immediately.
The 65 passengers on the sight-seeing boat, Thousand Islander, saved themselves by swimming to nearby islands or clinging to the foundering vessel until rescued by a sister ship.

The Lipe craft was traveling at such a high rate of speed that one of her plank was driven into the other boat's bow. That was all that was found of the little speed boat.

The crash occurred when the two boats were rounding Cherry island
in opposite directions.

Barlow Leads Staff In Assisting Run Down
Bootleggers

TEN ARRESTS ARE REPORTED AT NOON

Thirty Search Warrants
Issued By Lisbon
Official

BULLETIN
Eight alleged bootleggers,
five from East Liverpool, two from Wellsville, and one from Lisbon, were arraigned before Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, shortly before noon today, on charges of unlawful possession and unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor, bringing the total of arrests made by state and county officers, last night and this morning, to twelve.

State prohibition agents, assisted by county authorities were sweeping the entire southern section of Columbiana county in what is believed to be one of the most extensive cleanups of alleged illicit liquor establishments since the enactment of the prohibition amendment.

More than 30 search warrants
were issued Friday by Probate Judge Lodge W. Riddle, and latest reports today stated the raiders were still forcing the county in their efforts to put a complete stop to the illegal traffic of liquor in the county.

Sheriff William J. Barlow, three

Sheriff Barlow and remaining party of six workers could not be reached for definite information this morning, the entire county offices being deserted while the sheriff and his staff were conducting raids.

Four alleged violators of the Crabbe act faced Judge Riddle late Friday night, three pleading guilty to charges of unlawful sale of intoxicating liquors, and unlawful possession, while a fourth was arraigned on a charge of possession only.

Nick Renda, West Washington st., Lisbon, was fined $600 and costs by Judge Riddle, following his plea of guilty to the charge of possession, resulting from his arrest early in the evening. The affidavit in the case was filed by Sheriff Barlow.
Renda paid his fine and was released.

Pleas of guilty were entered to

WILL EUROPE FEDERATE?

As the time for the next meeting of the assembly of the League of Nations approaches, more and more is heard of the "United States of Europe." The phrase is one which is attracting considerable attention in the European press, but comment is frankly handicapped by a lack of definition. "The United States of Europe" has an impressive sound, certainly preferable to such an awkward term as "Pan-American Union." But what does it mean?

That is a question which can probably be answered only by Aristide Briand, the new prime minister of France. For admittedly "The United States of Europe" is a Briand project. It is understood that he already has broached the subject with several European governments and that their replies have been favorable. It is still further understood that he intends to bring the matter up at the September meeting in Geneva. But as to what precisely he has in mind, only Briand appears to know.

It is fairly obvious at this distance, however, that the proposal will involve some form of economic union, presumably based upon a general agreement to abolish all customs between member nations. It would establish free trade in Europe. What else would it do? One French observer believes Briand contemplates an economic union, to be followed by a political federation. This would certainly be an ambitious scheme, for which the United States of America in reality offers no precedent. A federation of states achieved by a largely homogeneous population in defense of its liberties and later extended by the historical processes of expansion into a practically unoccupied territory, is far different from a federation imposed upon states long divided by language, race and tradition—and suspicion.

Few observers profess to see any possibility for such a political amalgamation of Europe at a date which can be usefully predicted. The Roman Empire, and later the Holy Roman Empire approximated the concept of a united Europe, but the conditions under which they arose can scarcely be expected to appear again. What seems much more likely is the creation of an economic federation.

European economists have long pointed out the advantages which this country has derived from the absence of tariff restrictions between the individual states. Trade has thereby been permitted to develop normally among them, without being associated with the artificial methods of "protection" which hamper legitimate business, while they serve simultaneously to increase the cost of living. This system of free trade within so large an area, the Europeans observe, has made possible the growth of mass production at comparatively low costs, which in turn has allowed this nation to compete successfully in the European markets against domestic industries even where these have had tariff protection.

It is small wonder, therefore, that the European economists should regard this country as an object lesson and urge the adoption of a similar system at home, where each country is now leaving its own customs against the products of its neighbors. The movement undoubtedly has been given fresh impetus by the prospect that the American tariff schedules on many foreign imports soon may be increased. There is a natural tendency to preach retaliation, the most effective form of which would be a united free trade Europe surrounded by a high tariff wall against American imports.

But even this method, and in many ways logical form of an "United States of Europe" confronts many difficulties. It is all very well, for example, to say, "Let us abolish our tariff," but it is a different matter to induce the various nations to take such a step. Every industry which has been built up by the policy of protection will bring all its pressure to bear in opposition to the proposal.

Moreover, Europe still thinks in terms of a possible war. In theory, at least, many of these industries are necessary for national security. Will the governments consent to see them destroyed by the removal of their protection? There is the especial problem of the British commonwealth. Would it join such a federation? Scarcely, with so many of the dominions committed to protection.

It is said Briand is prepared to proceed without British collaboration and that he does not contemplate including the Union of Soviet Republics. The scheme might then seem designed for the advantage of France and Germany, as the more highly industrialized areas of Europe. Would the smaller and weaker nations care for such a development? But criticism must wait for Briand to unfold his plan some time next month. In the meantime, the "United States of Europe" remains an attractive phrase, the importance of which may be somewhat doubted.

In endeavoring to save the life of the guide of the Italian expedition hunting for traces of the six missing from Nobile's party when he was attacked by a polar bear, one of the expedition shot at the bear and hit and killed the guide. This old world of ours is pretty much the same all the way around. A guide hasn't any business going out with a hunting party.

What Others Say

ISSUE OVER ALIEN ESTATES

An action brought on behalf of the Italian government to obtain the $900 estate of an immigrant who died in New York and had no known heirs raises a strange problem of sovereignty concerning the individual human. Antonio Comincio was a founding about 68 years ago in Italy. He entered this country legally as an immigrant, 38 years before his death in 1925. Under the law of New York state, and in fact every state, his property in case he had no heirs, reverts to the sovereign power, which in this case is the state of New York. But Comincio was not a citizen of New York and of the United States was not legally in this country and, according to the Italian laws, was a subject of the king of Italy, whose government under Italian law became his heir. The Italian consulate general at New York maintains its action for recovery of the estate that it does not matter where the man died, or how long he had lived in a foreign land, Italy remained his heir.

Now, a $900 estate is a small sum to raise an issue between two great nations; but the point to be decided is far more important than the individual case. According to the New York surrogate's office, about $100,000 a year reverts to the state of New York from the estates of Italian immigrants who die in New York city and whose heirs can not be found. The property is held for 20 years for possible claimants, after which it goes to the state treasury. Doubtless the amount would be multiplied many times if a survey of these alien estates without heirs were made for all the 48 states. The total in Pennsylvania is believed to be $1,000,000.

There has been an indication that the Italian claim will be refused in the initial action before the surrogate's court but it seems certain that the matter will be pressed to a final decision before the problem is settled—Philadelphia Inquirer.

CHANGE PEPS YOU UP MENTALITY, BODILY

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

A change from the ordinary use of a good stimulating ointment.

One of our lives brings with it many good results. A temporary change from city to country, or from country to city as the case may be, will effect the mental attitude for the rest of the year. You may travel for a mile or a mile from home, but you will have different thoughts, new facts and ideas. A day or a month away from the familiar surroundings is sure to take one out of a rut.

Mental diseases and ailments are a result of a disordered mind. A disordered mind arises from some mental condition. It may be worry, fear, anger or continued ill health. Such conditions all have the result upon the body. They disturb the organic functions, especially those of elimination.

Experiments have shown that mental disease will not affect the digestion, that the assimilation of food is practically stopped. The food eaten at such time ferments. The poisons and waste materials resulting from this fermentation which should be eliminated are kept within the body.

Good health is often largely determined by good digestion, and a proper happy state of mind. The benefits of an otherwise happy vacation may be spoiled by over-eating or the eating of improper food. Do not eat too heartily. Make it a time of real physical recreation, a time to increase your bodily vitality and your mental poise.

Many understand their health by thinking about it. Having set out to enjoy a vacation, be happy, enter into all the fun possible, learn how to play and forget your troubles. While in nature's playground, where every green thing abounds, look about you and enjoy the many diversions of mind. A study of nature is a very interesting pastime.

Did you ever study the subject of "Trees"? Or the flora and fauna of the section where you are spending your vacation. And such things as the geological formation around you?

Think health instead of disease. This will have a marked effect and in time you will unconsciously resort to good health. Cultivate the right mental habits. Learn how to live. If you follow the commands of nature you will have abundant health.

THERE are many reasons why all the mechanism of the General Electric Refrigerator is placed on top of the cabinet. Here are 3 vital reasons:
1. Refrigerating mechanisms develop heat in the process of cooling the interior of the refrigerator. This heat escapes and rises. Therefore, General Electric has placed the refrigerating mechanism on top so that the escaping heat travels away from the cabinet.
2. Placing all the mechanism on top of the cabinet achieves maximum food storage space within the cabinet.
3. With the mechanism on top, the inside of the cabinet is free from obstructions and easier to keep clean.

President Participates in Event Near Camp In Blue Ridges

Washington, Aug. 17.—President Hoover, on his still another week-long tour from the humidity of Washington August. As has been the case for some Fridays past, he left after a party and a party of friends motored down into the Blue Ridge mountains for an overnight stay at his fishing camp on the Rapidan river.

The trip will be out of the ordinary in that today the president will go over to Madison, Va., to the seat of his camp site, and will participate in a big celebration of the fair grounds. The whole country is being turned out to turn out, and has made plans to turn out to see the president. Bands, bands, and bands are being made, and the features of the fair are being made.

The president and her son Allan Hoover, who have been in the mountains for the past two weeks, will be accompanied from a motorcade. The president will be accompanied by the president's son, Henry Hoover, secretary of the Navy, and the president's daughter, Miss Hoover, secretary of the Navy. # Danish Naval Ship Fate Still Mystery

London, Aug. 17.—The fate of the Danish naval training ship Koeben, which has been missing for seven months with 70 cadets on board in addition to the crew, has become a deeper mystery than ever since receipt of a message from one of the Danish search ships stating that reports that the vessel was wrecked off the lonely South Atlantic coast of Tristan de Cunha, are incorrect.

The only clue to the whereabouts of the magnificent five masted vessel since it left Buenos Aires in December, bound for Australia, came from Tristan de Cunha. Messages from there state that the ship was clearly seen off that island on Jan. 21. On a calm sea, with all sails set, she passed slowly by at some distance from the island. But the inhabitants, immensely interested and taking the closest observation of such a large sailing ship, were amazed to see no sign of life on board.

Dropping in to see Letty at tea-time I found her munching a raw carrot rather pensively. Would I have some? It was marvelous for the complexion I hope it is Letty worked at that carrot like an athlete under training, except that she was more doleful about it, and such martyrdom deserves all the peaches-and-cream complexion that she expects. Whether she will be so rewarded only time will tell. I'm skeptical. To demand the eradication of facial blemishes—everything from freckles up—is to put too heavy a burden on a little carrot, even a raw one.

A self-imposed diet is usually a futile thing, and sometimes indeed a dangerous one. Only a competent physician, one who understands dietetics as well as medicine, can give advice from which results are possible. Certainly the raw food fad can be carried to excess. There's a reason for cooking and while it is true that there is also a good deal of unnecessary cooking, one extreme is as bad as another.

Cooking breaks down the cellulose walls so that the saliva can act on the starch. For this reason the cereals and the root vegetables are more digestible cooked than raw—and many of them cannot be eaten raw at all without disastrous results. Carrots are on the boundary line. They can be eaten raw if you have the patience to chew them adequately, or they can be grated raw and aren't half bad that way. But in the main root vegetables—beets, carrots, turnips, and some of the pods like peas, beans—must be cooked to be enjoyed.

The dried fruits—prunes, figs, dates and raisins—have a high food value because of their sugar content, but for most persons they are desirable only as occasional dishes, not to the exclusion of raw fruits.

Probably we suffer more from overcooking of most foods than from eating too much raw. Excessive cooking sometimes toughens food as well as draining it of all juice and flavor. Certainly this is true of some of the vegetables—certainly cabbage, which many people still believe should be cooked for hours to make it digestible. Cabbage should be cooked in boiling water for 20 minutes, and if it is tender by that time then it is probably not fit to eat anyway. Extended cooking won't make it digestible in the ordinary sense. Vegetables should be tested for tenderness after the first 10 or 15 minutes, then removed from the fire and not cooked one minute longer than necessary. Cabbage, incidentally, is one of the fibrous vegetables which, like celery, can be eaten raw but must be chewed thoroughly, and to make sure the best way is to shred it finely for setting.

On the other hand, the various foods that can be eaten raw are usually more nourishing in the raw rather than in a cooked state. What is known as Vitamin A, which is absolutely necessary to bodily growth, is destroyed by too much cooking. Vitamin A occurs in milk, eggs and the green vegetables. As far as wholesomeness and digestibility are concerned, it is therefore always perfectly safe to eat raw what is normally edible raw. Vegetables like tomatoes, lettuce, celery, cucumbers, radishes can be eaten raw and are better in that state than cooked. For most persons fresh fruit is better in the raw state than when stewed. Certainly before avoiding the raw fruit and going on a stewed fruit diet it is necessary to have medical counsel.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Aug. 17.—Oxford has come to France this summer, indulging from the baggy trousers and over on smart women at the French beach.

They have most voluminous legs, clinging or waving in the breezes, with loose reversible coats and underneath a simple white shirt. Of decoration there is very little in the smartest ensemble; the chic effect being produced by fold upon fold of soft, clinging silk. When the waist is removed, the neat little skirt, usually backless, makes the ideal sun-bath garment.

Mrs. Julian Noyes who was recently married in Paris, is wearing a fetching pair which is a far cry from the ordinary mad riot of Oriental color. It comes in white satin, with side slits and a back that can give with any evening gown.

Tania Ramon of New York is wearing a Jack Tar affair with bell bottomed trousers in scarlet with a business-like buckle at the back, very nautical and holding things in place over the slimmest of hips. The shirt, tight-fitting is of red and white stripes, backless and the last word in chic.

One designer is showing a combination of black jersey swimming suit and grey cretane trousers and paired with handle of green lacquered wood and green taffeta belt. This is what the dressmakers call a transformation costume—very necessary on the beach where almost every moment of the day is spent. Another comes in linen with a skirt which comes off to reveal little culottes of the same.

Huge straw hats are being worn, floppy and wrapped around with colored scarfs. Chinese sandals are popular, lovely shiny things in lacquer shades of black, green, and yellow.

Marine's Funeral

DRY RAIDS

charges of selling and possession by Mrs. James Rubino, Lisbon; Thomas Morgan, East Liverpool; and Thomas Bock, St. Clair ave., East Liverpool.

State prohibition officer C. A. Biggs filed affidavits in the case of Mrs. Rubino and Morgan, while West filed the affidavit against Bock. The selling charges were based on affidavits signed and dated August 12, while the possession charges were both dated last night.

Mrs. Rubino paid fines of $200 on both counts and was released, while Bock and Morgan also fined $200 on each charge, were committed to county jail pending payment of the fines.

Mystery surrounded the whereabouts of the raiding officers this morning, but well grounded reports indicated that the raids were continuing through other sections of the country. No facts could be obtained on any of other reported arrests, the sheriff and assistants apparently wishing to keep the major portion of activities secret until completion of the raids.

One still, 50 gallons of whiskey, 100 gallons of malt and 100 gallons of beer were confiscated in last night's raids.

Eight more cases were to be disposed of by Judge Riddle today. They are:

Albert Houser, East End, East Liverpool; charges of selling and possession. Officers report confiscation of a 30-gallon still, 100 gallons of malt, six gallons of liquor, and 70 bottles of home brew at his place.

Mrs. Hazlett, East Liverpool; charged with possession of four and one-half gallons of liquor.

John Hutchinson, Second st., East Liverpool; possession charge.

Mrs. Mary Burrows, Second st., East Liverpool; charged with possession of 12 quarts of beer, half gallon and one pint liquor.

Frank Erpolt, Lisbon, possession. W. E. Nutter, Second st., East Liverpool, 60 pints beer, one-half pint liquor allegedly found in his place. Possession charge.

Two arrests were made in Wellsville this morning. Louise Shocker and Domenica Richi, both alleged to have been operating a bootlegging establishment on Third st., Wellsville, were arrested on affidavits, charging them with sale of liquors on August 13. They will be arraigned this afternoon.

TWO KILLED IN SEWER CAVE-IN

Workers Buried Under Several Tons of Earth When Walls Gave Way; Third Victim May Die

North Baltimore, O., Aug. 17.—Two men were buried alive and another man was perhaps fatally injured here when a sewer in which they were working caved in, Friday.

Arlington Smith, 50, a married man, and Steven Tota, 20, are the dead. Cecil Gysinger, 40, another workman, is seriously injured.

The men were working in the ditch just shortly before noon when one of the 14-foot walls gave away. They were buried under tons of earth.

Gysinger was extricated alive, but Smith and Tota had been crushed or smothered to death.

Self-Extinguishing Cigarette Subject Of Chemists' Test

Washington, Aug. 17.—Experiments in a self-extinguishing cigarette have been completed at the Bureau of Standards and indicate that a new and important fire prevention measure has been discovered.

Cigarettes with specially prepared cork or chemically treated paper tips, were devised which would cease to burn when the smoker quit puffing. Such a cigarette cast aside would not be a fire hazard.

Scientists who made the test, however, were non-smokers and did not know how a chemical treated cigarette would "taste." The puffing job was delegated to subordinates.

The new cigarettes apparently would increase the use of automatic matches and lighters.

The Bureau of Standards already has devised a chemically treated match which burns only a portion of the stem. That was regarded as an important fire prevention measure.

'Loneliness' Given As Cause of Four Marriages by Man

Philadelphia, Aug. 17.—"Loneliness," Samuel J. Berger, 34, of Cleveland, O., told a magistrate Friday, caused him to marry a woman in each of four towns he visited.

Three of the irate women appeared against Berger when he was arraigned before Magistrate Oswald on charges of bigamy.

Wife No. 4, who is in Denver, was unable to make the trip here.

"What made you do it?" asked Oswald.

"Oh, just loneliness, you know," answered Berger in a dry fashion. "I used to get so fed up in each town I visited, so I guess I married for the sake of company."

Influenza Causes Physician's Death

Ottawa, O., Aug. 17.—Complications arising from an attack of influenza, last winter, Friday caused the death of Dr. E. P. Lemley, aged 55, only practicing physician of Vaughnsville, near here.

Dr. Lemley had recovered sufficiently to practice his profession but he suffered a relapse a few days ago.

A wealthy resident of India has had the front of an automobile designed to resemble a swan, hisses from its back warning pedestrians.

City Baseball League Race Narrows Down To Billiards, Masons

Pottery Eliminated By 6-2 Defeat; Contenders To Clash For Loop Lead

The Colonial Billiards evened up the Salem Baseball association once more, advancing into a tie for the lead with the Masons by defeating the Pottery 6-2 at Centennial park last night.

Opportunity hitting of slants of Chet Drakulich, the Pottery's hurler, together with the slatter's wildness, accounted for the Colonial's victory, their sixth of the season.

Joe Hrovatic pitched on the mound for the second time with the Billiards, and was given great support in all but the fourth inning. When the Pottery recovered their only runs of the contest, The Billiards scored once in the third, three times in the fourth, and twice in the fifth.

The Billiards will clash with the

Johnny Risko Meets Kayo Christner In Cleveland Battle

Cleveland, Aug. 17.—Johnny Risko of Cleveland, and K. O. Christner, the Akron mauler, are practically assured of a 12-round go at Cleveland public auditorium September 4.

Charles Marotta, promoter of the bout, held his cards on the table today and told the boxing commission that Max Rosenblum was his backer. A permit for the fight had previously been denied because of Marotta's refusal to name his backer.

Christner and Risko have been guaranteed $5,000 each with privilege of 27 1/2 per cent of the gate receipts. Verbal agreements with both the fighters have been obtained, but signed contracts will be necessary before the bout is sanctioned officially.

Argentine May Fight On Card

Fugazy Seeks Opposition For Campolo Who Won Over Tom Heeney

By SID MERCER

New York, Aug. 17.—If Humbert Fugazy can dig up an opponent out of the grab bag on short notice, Victorio Campolo, who scored so sensationally over Tom Heeney last Thursday night, will appear again at Ebbetts Field on August 28, the night before the Singer-Chocolate affair at the Polo Grounds.

Campolo has no intention of resting or loafing on his laurels. He wants a fight a week, if that is possible, and has asked Fugazy to get him the best opponents available.

"I'll say one thing for this fellow," comments the promoter, "and that is that he asked for the best when he first came to me for a fight."

"I've learned all the small-timers can teach me," he told me, "and now I want first-class competition. If I don't belong, then the quicker I find it out the better off I will be."

Campolo was ready for Godfrey when he landed here a few weeks ago, and is still ready to tackle the black giant, who has been studiously avoided by the first line of American white heavyweights.

Godfrey may possibly come in for the late August date, but in the event that Max Schmeling declines to play ball with Phil Scott, the showdown comes next week.

Campolo and the British champion may be matched.

Either Schmeling and Scott or Campolo and Scott will meet on September 11. If the Schmeling-Scott match is made Campolo may be tossed in earlier and then asked to fight the winner of Fugazy's big September number.

SHELL RACES TO FEATURE EVENT ON MUSKINGUM

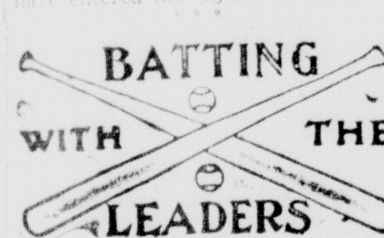

Marionetta, O., Aug. 17.—The first eight-card shell races ever held in Ohio will be featured at the colorful mid-week regatta here next Friday and Saturday. A crowd of more than 15,000 persons is expected to attend.

The course of the race will be on the beautiful Muskingum river within the city limits here, where the stream joins with the Ohio river in its rush to the sea.

The Detroit boat club, national champions in its class for the past three years and the Wyandotte boat club, Canadian champions, will compete.

They will use the new shells donated to Marionetta college which has added racing as a regular sport.

Contestants from eight states have entered the regatta races.

Yanks Out Of Legarthy Hit Hard And Topple Detroit

By HENRY McEMORE

New York, N. Y., Aug. 17.—New York's Yankees, if nothing else, are versatile.

Having Thursday sat placidly by while Earl Whitehill proceeded to allow them but two hits, the Yankees yesterday descended upon Navin field in all their old-time fury to pound out fifteen hits for a 12 to 2 victory. Babe Ruth spent quite a busy afternoon, getting three hits, one his 32nd homer of the year and tallying four times.

But the Hugmen are still fourteen games behind. Philadelphia, trouncing Cleveland 6 to 5, the Mackmen won only after a narrow escape, the Indians scoring two in the ninth and having the winning run in base before being checked by young Mr. Shores. Max Bishop returned to the line-up after an absence of two weeks.

Chicago defeated Washington in a free-hitting affair, 8 to 3. Thomas was touched for sixteen safeties while the Sox collected thirteen off Burke and Hadley, one a home run by Reynolds. Outfielder Rice was painfully injured when Cissell's triple bounced off his glove, striking him in the face.

The Red Sox took their second victory in three games from the Browns, 3 to 2. Schang, Brown, catcher was removed from the game in the fourth when injured by a foul tip.

The Robins, persistent cussers, finally succeeded in defeating the Cubs without the aid of Dazzy Vance. Raymon Moss was the young man who blanked the chesty little Bears for eight innings, and beat Charley Root, 5 to 2 in a best pitchers' battle. It was the second time in four years in the majors that Moss was able to begin, end and win a game of his own.

Moss' accomplishment clipped a full game from the Cubs' lead. Pittsburgh battered a pair of Boston pitchers for fifteen hits and a 9 to 3 win. Traynor had a perfect day at bat getting two doubles, two singles and driving in three runs. Manager Bush shifted his lineup for the game, sending Paul Waner to first base and Brickell to right field.

Despite Lefty O'Doul's twenty-fourth home run the Reds trimmed the Phillies 7 to 3. The defeat prevented the Phillies from advancing to seventh place.

The Giants and Cardinals tied yesterday but make it up today with a double-header.

Burglars Can Find Secret Hiding Places

YOU often hear thieves referred to as members of "the burglar profession". It is called a profession because men who are engaged in it know their business as well as do men in legitimate professions.

You would have great difficulty in finding a place in your home in which you could hide valuables so that thieves would not find them. There is one place, however, where burglars can never find your possessions. That is in our Safe Deposit vault.

SENATE REJECTS NEW SUGAR BILL

Rebellion Against High Tariff Rewarded In Group's Action

Washington, Aug. 17. — The "housewife rebellion" against the high tariff on sugar in the house bill was rewarded when the Republican membership of the senate finance committee rejected the rate of $2.40 per 100 pounds on Cuban imports.

The Republican tariff makers adhered to the tariff without having fixed a definite rate but they anticipated a decision, considerably lower than the house rates. One group of the Republicans was fighting for retention of the $1.76 per 100 pounds on Cuban imports, the rate in existing law, while another was holding out for a flat rate of $2 an approximate half way mark between the present law and the house figure.

The sliding scale of sugar rates once proposed by Senator Smoot (R) of Utah, was not even discussed, having been abandoned last week.

Smoot subsequently announced rates except those on sugar had been considered. He said the proposal to attach a farm relief measure to the bill would be considered during the day, but was apparently due for rejection.

BANDITS GIVEN PRISON TERMS

Heavy Sentences Imposed On Trio
Who Robbed Two Stores Near Defiance; Plead Guilty

Defiance, O., Aug. 17. — Heavy prison sentences were meted out to two men and a 19-year-old flapper bandit when they pleaded guilty in Common Pleas Judge Fred L. Hay's court to robbing the Murphy jewelry and the Pettis hardware stores in Hicksville, near here, August 6, last Friday.

The three were captured here following an exciting chase and gun battle.

Charles Deamery, 28, alias Orion Felkey, of Dayton, was sentenced to serve a 9-to-15 year term in the Ohio state penitentiary.

Beatrice Lee, 19, alias Felkey, received a sentence of from one to 15 years in the Marysville reformatory and her brother, Walter Lee, 22, of Somerset, Ky., got the same sentence to Mansfield reformatory.

Jeweler Tortured By Safe Robbers

Baltimore, Aug. 17. — Tortured with a lighted match held against his eye, Raymond Hughes, jeweler, was forced to tell two bandits the combination of his safe. Jewelry worth $20,000 was stolen, police reported Friday.

The "torture bandits" accosted Hughes when he returned home Thursday night with his wife. They pushed the couple in the house and then demanded the combination to the store safe. Hughes refused, even after the flame of the match was placed close to his eye.

"Oh, tell them, I can't stand it!" pleaded the wife and Hughes did. One bandit remained at the house while the other went to the store.

"SINGING FOOL"

AL JOLSON IS AT THE ROYAL
IN "THE SINGING FOOL" NEXT WEEK

Richard Dix makes his appearance on the silver screen of the State theater once more in another great dramatic production—"The Wheel of Life," probably the greatest of the star's productions.

"The Wheel of Life" heads the scheduled pictures in the city the coming week Dix being supported in his leading role by Esther Ralston. At 10:30 the never-fading star of stage and screen again appears in the city in his great "The Singing Fool," which moved the entire nation to tears several months ago.

It is the picture's first appearance with talking accompaniment in Salem, having been released by special request. Jolson is supported, and almost outclassed in popularity in this vehicle by little Davey Lee.

JOLSON IN GREAT ROLE

The greatness of "The Singing Fool" has placed it at the head of the year's issue of screen vehicles, according to a review completed recently in Hollywood. It shows Jolson in the role of a waiter in a cabaret where he sings comedy songs together with his vaudeville partner, as a gangster's handy man. He sings his change singing a song before a great producer, and as a result is made as far as his stage aspirations are concerned.

He marries but is unhappy, despite the event of a young son. His wife leaves him and takes with her young Davey. His life is ruined, but he stages a comeback, just as the boy dies. His singing of the great song, "Sonny Boy," has made the song famous throughout the world.

Richard Arlen is a hard-boiled, beautiful pugilist in "The Man I Love," married to Miss Brian, broke, they venture to New York on a "box car" honeymoon where Arlen gets his big chance in the ring. It's an unromantic story with an impressive love tale mixed in.

scenario completes the week at that place.

This latter follows closely in popularity of "The Wheel of Life," being the latest of the features produced with Arlen and Miss Brian as the headlined players. Jack Oakie, the wisecracking laugh-maker, is seen in an important role together with a group of other players who advanced quickly in the cinematic world since the advent of the talkies.

STORY OF LIFE
Dix is a young British officer in his feature—the story of life, how one's entire existence is molded from the day of one's birth. Love enters into the tale but it is one of those hopeless affairs over which the human hand has no control. Dix is brought into the contact with the girl he loves—the wife of a friend and commanding officer—on various incidents, but always duty comes first, until at last the Fates bring her to him.

All talking comedies appear as co-features with the State's big pictures. The first three days an "Our Gang" affair is screened, while Lupino Lane makes his advent in talkies Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Twin Beds" is at the State tonight while Host Gibson is at the Royal in "The Lariat Kid."
